S. O. SHIP WABASHA HAS PERILOUS RETURN CRUISE

CAPTAIN AND CREW IN DREAD OF CRUISER EMDEN AND HER DAUNTLESS SKIPPER, VON MULLER WHO RESORTED TO STRATEGIC RUSE IN TRAPPING BRITISH CRAFT—FORTUNATE FOG DESCENDS AT OPPORTUNE MOMENT.

When Captain W. Phillips and his British crew of the Standard Oil tanker "Wabasha" completed the voyage from the Orient late last evening and passed into the harbor the skipper entered the following upon his official log:

"We breathe again with ease for we are safely moored to the company's Long Wharf in San Francisco bay with no Germans in sight."

From August 29, when the Wabasha sailed from Point Orient port for the far east and dodged safely past the German cruisers Nurnberg and Leipzig, until the return to the home port, the skipper and his men were in constant dread of being captured by the ships of the enemy.

Captain Phillips was particularly anxious over the German cruiser Emden, as the Wabasha was in the far east before that vessel had been captured.

Arriving in Japan news of the activities of the Emden was received. At Singapore it was learned that Captain Von Muller and his raiding cruiser was in the Bay of Bengal. Nearly Gets Supplies.

At Calcutta it was learned that the Emden had notified the British authorities there a few days previously that it was the British cruiser Hampshire and needed 500 tons of coal and a lot of supplies immediately. The ruse worked so well that barges were loaded and sent down the river, but before the large fleet reached the river mouth an Italian merchant-man steamed in and gave the secret away.

On October 29 the Wabasha was within thirty miles of the Emden which was on the lookout, having received complete information of the movements of British vessels while masquerading as the Hampshire.

Fortunately for the Wabasha a heavy fog obscured navigation and the tanker escaped. For six weeks Phillips and his men were kept in suspense, always expecting Von Muller to steam along.

Steaming from the Orient for San Francisco the Wabasha battled with several storms, but no damage to the ship resulted.

VINDICATES DR. FRASER IN SLINGSBY CHILD CASE

Testimony of Local Physician is Corroborated By Counsel For Defense

Mrs. Slingsby Formerly Swore That the Advertisement Was a Forgery

Attorney Edward Duke, Kings Counsel and handling the defense in the case of Lieutenant and Mrs. Charles Slingsby for their "million-dollar baby substitution case," corroborated in every way the testimony as given by Dr. W. W. Fraser of this city at the recent preliminary hearing held in San Francisco.

When the case opened before the British Probate Court in London, England, yesterday, Henry Edward Duke, M. P. King's counsel and chief attorney for the Slingsby claimants of the million-dollar estate left by the famous Yorkshire sportsman parson, the Rev. Charles Slingsby, admitted that Mrs. Slingsby had arranged for the insertion of the advertisement.

AEROPLANE BATTERED BY STORM

Irreparable Damage is Done to J. R. Froberg's Air Craft—Motor is Saved—Loss Will Exceed $2,000

Torn from its hangar near the Salt Water station of the Standard Oil plant by the terrific storm which swept this section of the state on Monday night, the hydro-aeroplane belonging to J. R. Froberg was lifted high into the air and battered to pieces on the rocky beach below.

The damage done to the craft is irreparable and according to the inventor will approximate $2,000.

Froberg at the time that the accident happened was asleep in a small cabin at the rear of the hangar, and hearing the loud creaking noise, dressed in a hurried manner and hastened to the scene.

He arrived just in time to see the high wind tear the aircraft loose from its fastenings and hurl it high into the air.

All that was saved from the debris was the six-cylinder motor which Froberg intends to install in another plane before 1915 that he may make several flights at the Exposition.

RICHMOND'S TEST CASE DECISIVE

Decision of Appellate Court in City Hall Site Will Have a Far-Reaching Effect in State

As a result of the findings of the Appellate court in the matter of the location of the Richmond City hall site, the decision of the jurists will be far reaching in that it maintained that the initiative and referendum cannot be invoked on a merely administrative act on the part of a city council or similar body and that a vote could no more be called on the selection of a city hall site than it could upon the purchase of a portion of the material to be used in the construction of the building itself.

The decision which was written by Judge Lennon and concurred in by Judges Kerrigan and Richards was rendered in a demurrer interposed to an injunction applied for by the opposition to the Wall Company and it was maintained that the contract under which the City Council of Richmond accepted the site in Wall's Harbor Center antedated

OFFICERS CLOSING IN ON MURDERER OF JOHN DUCCA

PETER ANGELINI BEING CLOSED IN UPON BY CORDON OF SHERIFFS WHO BEAT THE HILLS DURING LONG AND DREARY WATCHES OF A TEMPESTUOUS NIGHT—NUMBER OF BLOODHOUNDS TAKE UP TRAIL OF FUGITIVE.

Somewhere in the hills near Happy Valley, located about 3 miles above Lafayette is lurking Peter Angelini, murderer of John Ducca, with a 32 caliber Colt automatic revolver and 300 rounds of ammunition, and for whom Sheriff Veale has made an untiring effort to trace.

The last report from the sheriff's office at Martinez gives the murderer's position as two miles from the Burns ranch.

Late today fresh deputies were sent out by Sheriff Veale to take up the search where the tired officers had left off last evening and it is hoped that before nightfall that the man who has terrorized the entire Latin quarter in the vicinity of Grand Canyon park will be apprehended.

At any minute Sheriff R. R. Veale who is leading the man hunt, is expected to give the order to "close in." That command, in the belief of the deputy sheriffs, constables and other peace officers making up the posse, will mean a battle for life, a fusillade between a desperado trapped in the wilderness and the men who have tracked him for days.

Throughout the long night, while the rain was falling in torrents, the man hunters in their oilskins, pushed their way over the rainsoaked bed of San Pablo Creek.

Hounds Follow Train.

Along the creek bed were the fresh footprints of a man. That these were traces of the murderer were evidenced by the excitement of the bloodhounds, tugging at their leashes and leading the pursuers further through the almost blinding rain.

Time and again the man hunters raised their sawed off shotguns when there was heard a rustle in the leaves, but the suspicion each time proved only a false alarm, and the pursuers pressed their way onward. It was shortly after daybreak that the posse traced the fugitive to the densely wooded country near Lafayette, and there Angelina is fortifying himself today, preparing for the inevitable battle to the finish.

A messenger was dispatched on horseback to Walnut Creek for more men, and it is expected that the posse will be augmented before the final clash.

Shot in Self Defense.

Peace officers expressed the belief today that Angelina may have shot and killed John Ducca at San Pablo last Sunday in self-defense. A refusal of food, it is said, prompted Angelina's attempt to kill Antonio Machado, rancher of Lafayette, yesterday. Angelina met Machado on the ranch yesterday and asked for food. Machado refused.

Angelina then pointed his shotgun at the rancher and pulled the trigger. The gun failed to explode and Machado hurried off to safety. Making up the posse led by Sheriff Veale are Deputy Sheriffs Howard Veale and John Lubbe of Richmond, Deputy Sheriff Louis Hagen of Stege, Constable Arthur Williams of Walnut Creek and scores of ranchers.

Recovering.

Mrs. F. P. Stults of 1122 Bissell avenue who has been confined to her home during the past few days with a bad cold, is reported as much improved.

Mrs. R. Teherassy, wife of the Point theatre man, is confined to her home on Richmond avenue with a bad cold.

SHELL OIL COMPANY ORDERS NEW TANKER

BIG VESSEL WITH CARRYING CAPACITY OF 60,000 GALLONS WILL BE BUILT IN UNITED STATES AND WILL CARRY AMERICAN FLAG AT ITS MAST HEAD—TO BE CONSTRUCTED BY SOME EASTERN SHIP BUILDERS.

MARTINEZ, Dec. 3.—W. Meischke-Smith of the Shell company of California has returned from London and reports that financial affairs there are in much better shape than was generally supposed, though he says that it is entirely out of the question to look to this source for new capital for American enterprises.

The Shell company is in an enviable condition inasmuch as every dollar needed for the construction of the Valley pipe line and the refineries in Martinez is now in bank.

The order for the new tanker, which will fly the American flag and have a carrying capacity of 60,000 barrels, has been placed with an Eastern shipyard.

The pipe line which is now building under the supervision of Sanderson & Porter, will be completed toward the close of 1915. The company is also building tankage installations in the Northwest.

Meischke-Smith said that of 450 employees at the company's London office, 150 had already gone to the front as volunteers. The remainder are organized for defense.

A searchlight and rapid-fire gun has been mounted on the Shell building in London, which is the highest in the city, boasting 12 stories.

STATE SENATOR BOOSTS FOR KINDERGARTENS TO BE OPENED IN JANUARY

Hon. J. C. Owens Addresses Oakland Chamber of Commerce and Asks For Support

State Senator J. C. Owens of Richmond made a strong plea yesterday to the business men of Oakland to support the proposed ferry between Richmond and Point San Quentin. Owens spoke at the regularly weekly luncheon of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce and the Commercial Club Consolidated, and his views on the benefits that would accrue to the transbay section by the establishment of the ferry were enthusiastically received.

A meeting will be held in San Rafael tomorrow by business men from all the cities and towns in Marin and Sonoma counties to concentrate on the work of securing the ferry. A delegation of fifty Oakland business men, headed by Mayor Mott, will attend, leaving the Chamber of Commerce building at 11 o'clock.

According to City Superintendent of Schools W. T. Helms, preparations are being made for the opening of the kindergartens the first of the year. The examination of teachers to fill the positions in the new buildings which have just been completed will take place before the county board of education in the county seat on the 18th inst.

Independent Democratic Official Paper of City of Richmond

MAKING JUSTICE FREE

The Fresno Democrat says that in spite of all pretended equality in the eyes of the law, there has never been possible under the American judicial system, an equal show, a square deal for the man whose pockets are empty, however full of fairness his case may be. Our plan of justice is based on the fee system. In spite of efforts to eliminate inequalities, no one can gainsay that delays in justice leave the victory not to the swift or the righteous in many cases but to those financially able to carry on litigation, to keep on fighting, carrying the case higher and higher up until the opponent is worn out physically and financially.

Therefore, the suggestion for a so-called "Poor Man's Court" in California comes with good sense to combat the inequalities of the present system of court procedure. W. H. Lyon, a state senator from Los Angeles, proposes a way to overcome the conditions mentioned by the establishment in this state of debtor's courts for those persons who are unable to stand the expense of the laws delays or to engage counsel who require fees beyond their reach. Senator Lyon has taken his idea up with the state legislature counsel bureau at Sacramento and has received assistance in having drafted a bill that will be presented to the legislature early in January.

The purpose of the measure, it is said, will be to make possible for working people to whom small sums of money are owing, but who are unable to collect what is their own by right of toil to obtain justice speedily, without combating the law's technical delays. The principal involved was brought home pointedly recently by the killing in San Francisco of an employer who had deliberately withheld from a working man with a wife and hungry children at home, with eviction staring them in the face, a sum of money honestly earned by the employee. Repeated efforts to collect the money due him by appeals to the employer had no effect and no court could have helped a man already penniless when honest recompense already was denied by the boss who was amply able to defend an ordinary suit to recover what was due.

It took a murder to call attention to that one instance. There are many more such instances of oppression never heard of. The debtor's court would make such cases impossible and restore to working men and women a guarantee of speedy justice for which they might seek in our system of jurisprudence as at present constituted and seek in vain.

Los Angeles has gone a step in the right direction by creating the office of public defender, an officer whose duty it is to see that every man arrested is taken care of in the same manner, no matter whether he has money or not. When a stranger to the city is apprehended for any cause the matter is reported to the public defender and he visits the man in jail inquires into his case and he is supplied with everything necessary to perfect his defense without money and without price.

This is as it should be and equalizes justice in a way that does credit to our Twentieth century civilization.

According to a dispatch from Chicago a great many newly wedded couples are much worried by reports that marriage licenses required the 10-cent Government war tax stamp, many who have utilized licenses here since November 30 appealed to the internal revenue office today to learn whether they were liable to prosecution. Julius Smietanka, collector of internal revenue, declared that no stamp was required for the license. Only when a certified copy is required to prove marriage, as in divorce proceedings, is the stamp necessary, he declared.

Among other things which the war in Europe is bringing to us are a great many orders for wearing materials for the soldiers at war. Russia, for instance, has bought 1,000,000 pairs of shoes through Grand Duke Michael, who contributed his purchase to the cause. And there are others of the warring nations who are buying goods of all descriptions and there will be a great deal more goods of various sorts needed as the war progresses.

This life would not be so terribly bad if we only had a safe and sure plan whereby we could keep plenty of food on the table and clothing for our backs.

John D. Rockefeller will have to pay an income tax of $1,200,000 on his personal property in Ohio, unless he can secure an injunction from the Federal courts. This is some money, but John D. has the money and can stand it about as well as the common individual could the payment of $5.

The German Kaiser has come under the ban of Bernard Shaw and that gentleman refers to him as "this Peter Pan." Probably the Kaiser will feel mighty bad about it—and then again he mightn't care a whoop.

We are in favor of a law requiring undertakers—excuse us, mortuary directors—to divide their profits with automobile dealers. Certainly the latter is a valiant co-worker with the former.

Whatever may be the claims of Turkey she does not profess to being in the war game for the sake of Christianity.

"TIZ" FOR TIRED SORE, ACHING FEET

Ah! what relief. No more tired feet; no more burning feet, swollen, bad smelling, sweaty feet. No more pain in corns, callouses or bunions. No matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use "TIZ." "TIZ" draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet; "TIZ" is magical; "TIZ" is grand; "TIZ" will cure your foot troubles so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never, never hurt or get sore, swollen or tired. Get a 25 cent box at any drug or department store, and get relief.

CLEVELAND ABBE

Cleveland Abbe, originator of the daily weather report, famous meteorologist, lecturer and author, was born at New York December 3, 1838. He studied astronomy in many colleges, and took up teaching in Michigan Agricultural College in 1859. The following year he was appointed to the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey for four years, after which he went to St. Petersburg, now Petrograd, national observatory. He returned in 1867 as aid in the U. S. Naval Observatory, and became director of the Cincinnati observatory the following year. It was while here that he originated the idea of daily weather reports and put out a report for the Chamber of Commerce, which was adopted by the national government. He became known as "Old Probs," a nickname that has clung to him. He went to the federal weather bureau in 1891, and has been a lecturer at Johns Hopkins, George Washington University, and other institutions. Dr. Abbe is a member of many scientific societies. He is still active in his profession, and is connected with the U. S. Weather Bureau at Washington.

Scene From "The Straight Road" at the Richmond Tomorrow and Saturday.

WISHING RING LAST TIME TONIGHT

Few stars have won such a quick response from the public as Miss Vivian Martin, who appears this evening for the last time in "The Wishing Ring" at the Richmond theatre.

Miss Martin is an extremely clever actress having succeeded in bringing the love scenes of her sketch to a social pedestal, which is bound to leave a better impression on everyone.

The management was desirous of keeping the picture a longer time but owing to the great demand for it all over the circuit, this was found impossible. Don't wish afterwards that you had attended the production, but grasp this final opportunity to witness the future star.

Commencing on tomorrow, "The Straight Road," a story of a battle which a poor girl goes through in her efforts to reach the right road. It is presented by the Famous Players company and has an excellent cast.

POWDER STOCK IS SOARING SKYWARD SINCE WAR BEGAN

According to market reports from the east the E. I. duPont de Nemours powder stock has advanced to 166 bid and 165 asked on the New York stock exchange. A fortnight ago the bid price was 140 and on the San Francisco exchange yesterday 155 was bid and at the opening today 157 was bid. The sharp rise is attributed to the demand for powder, owing to the European war. A sharp rise has also been noticeable in affiliated companies, Hercules being quoted in New York today at 120 bid and 125 asked, the Atlas 98 bid and 102 asked. The foreign ammunition demand has necessitated a greatly enhanced force of workmen at all of the company's plants.

Owing to the fact that the judge had been hurriedly called from the bench the several cases scheduled to come up today were postponed.

WISCONSIN SUFFRAGISTS MEET

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 3.—The annual convention of the Wisconsin Woman's Suffrage Association opened here today, and will continue Friday and Saturday. A big gathering of prominent women from all over the state and from outside cities was welcomed by the mayor. Rev. Olympia Brown delivered the invocation, and addresses were made by Sophie Gudden of Oshkosh, Theodore Youmans of Waukesha and Helen H. Haight of Waukesha. Legislative measures are to be discussed by Belle Case, La Follette, Ada L. James, and Mrs. George Bass of Chicago.

Tomorrow a peace meeting will be held, at which John M. Whitehead, president of the Wisconsin Peace Society, will be the principal speaker. Mrs. Pethick Lawrence of England will speak at the same meeting on the constructive work of women for universal peace.

All the meetings are open to the public, and they are attracting a large attendance.

Treanor Funeral.

The funeral of Louis Treanor who died on Saturday at his home in St. Paul, Minnesota was held from the Smallwood undertaking parlors this afternoon. The funeral cortege proceeded to St. Mark's Catholic church where mass was said by Rev. Father Griffin. Interment taking place in Sunset View cemetery.

"IN THE BALMACAAN OVERCOAT I BOUGHT ON CREDIT,"

"I'm Comfortable Because I Know It's Right!"

"To act with assurance, to talk convincingly, a man MUST know that his looks are pulling for him. A shabby suit of clothes, or an overcoat that's out of shape and out of date, may discourage and 'shelve' a fellow quicker than any other influence.

"And I've discovered that there's nothing like CHERRY'S CREDIT SYSTEM for keeping men up with the fashions in clothes and immaculately attired always.

"This Balmacaan Overcoat of mine—top-notch in style, you can see that—is from CHERRY'S.

"Cheap at from $18 to $25! I should say they are, when you think of the splendid quality and the 'snap' that's built into them. ON CREDIT TERMS, of course—just easy INSTALLMENT PAYMENTS that hardly dent a person's pocket-book.

"CHERRY'S have a store at 523 14th St., Oakland, and the ladies' store is across the street at 515. Their stores in San Francisco for both men and women are at 1009 Market and 2400 Mission Sts."

THRONGS ENJOY ORPHEUM BILL THIS WEEK

The crowds at the Oakland Orpheum this week are enjoying nine brilliant vaudeville acts that run the gamut of entertainment in pretty nearly every direction. Those who love sweet singing are very much entertained; the devotees of dancing can watch some very sensational performers; Japanese illusionists dazzle and mystify the throngs; some lively lads dance and sing in clever style; pretty girls are there in abundance; a great dramatic skit thrills and grips the hearts of the crowd; there are European novelties in abundance and funny clowns to top off the show. It is a great bill.

The list of acts on the bill this week includes the following: Jack & Foris, original entertainers.

D'Avigneau Lady Quartette. Bert Merrett, in character songs. Asahi, assisted by Asahi quintette, presenting feats of magic and mystery.

Elphyne Snowden and his talking violin.

"The Last Trick," a startling episode of the Underworld, by Harry Bonnell.

Corbett, Shepard & Donovan, three boys who sing.

Hubert Dyer, assisted by Peter Alvin, A laugh a second.

Orpheum motion pictures.

The big feature next week is "The Red Heads," one of the greatest musical comedies that has ever been sent over the Circuit in which Jas. B. Carson is featured.

Here From Colorado.

H. G. Kekch of Minturn, Colorado, is visiting with his daughter, Mrs. J. Hollenbaugh in this city.

WINTER BASEBALL OPENS ACROSS BAY

The opening games of the Winter Baseball League, postponed last Sunday on account of rain, will be held next Sunday at Recreation Park.

There has been no change in the schedule. As originally announced, the Olympic Club Reds and the Union Iron Works team will clash at 10:30 o'clock. The St. Ignace College and United Railroads teams will meet in the second game.

The players are more eager than ever to get into action and the games promise to be rattling good contests.

SUFFRAGISTS SEE

WILSON AGAIN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Within a few days, President Wilson will receive another delegation of suffragists, but it is promised that they will behave and not "beard" him in his den. Mrs. George A. Ames will lead a delegation of Democratic Women of America to the White House, to seek the President's endorsement of equal suffrage. The President has unpleasant memories of the previous conference, which he gave last summer to a delegation from another organization. The spokeswoman at that time offended the President during the hearing, but he has entirely forgiven the ladies and is entirely willing to hear their argument.

Mr. Vanderbilt of the American Presbyterian Mission in Mexico City, Rev. Sam Higginbottom of India and Rev. W. I. Chamberlain, foreign secretary of the Reformed church board.

"EDDIE" MAHAN NEW HARVARD CAPTAIN

CAMBRIDGE, (Mass.), Dec. 3.—Edward William Mahan of Natick, Mass., halfback on the Harvard Varsity football team for the past two years, was chosen captain of the 1915 team at a meeting of the 1914 squad today.

Mahan, who is in the junior class, prepared for college at Phipps-Andover Academy, where he was a member of the football, baseball and track teams.

He captained the Andover nine and in his first year at Harvard was captain of the freshmen eleven. He is 22 years old.

PONCE DE LEON FAILED; HIS PRIZE IS FOUND

Ponce de Leon, the daring explorer, searched among the swamps of Florida for the Fountain of Youth, which the Indians said would restore power and make people young. He did not find it.

Thousands of chronic intestinal, bowel and stomach sufferers have written to Geo. H. Mayr, 154 Whiting St., Chicago, in quest of health. They have found it. His remedy, composed of healing vegetable oils from France, has indeed given them back the health of youth.

Why suffer from indigestion, gases on the stomach, fainting spells, torpid liver, constipation and all the evils of a disordered stomach when there is relief here? Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy is now sold here by all druggists.

STATE LICENSE TAX ON AUTOS MATERIALLY RAISED

NEW FORMULA ADOPTED FOR COMPUTING HORSE POWER IS ATTRIBUTED AS CAUSE FOR INCREASE WHICH WILL VARY FROM $5 TO $10, ACCORDING TO THE VARIETY OF THE CAR—INCREASE TO APPROXIMATE $300,000.

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 3.—Automobile owners in many cases will have to pay an increased State license tax for registering their machines for 1915.

The increase is due to the adoption by the State Engineering Department of a new formula for computing the horse power of automobiles, on which the scale of state motor vehicle taxes are based.

On some types of cars the increase per capita is $5; on others the increase is $10. What it will amount to in the aggregate is not known, but estimates range from $150,000 to $300,000, as there are now approximately 120,000 registered automobiles in the state, with total license receipts for the year of about $1,400,000.

While the $10 raise applies to comparatively few types of cars, the $5 raise affects many others.

INTERESTING DEMONSTRATION IS GIVEN BY INVENTOR OF SMOKE CONDENSING DEVICE

CAPTAIN C. W. LENT GIVES SATISFACTORY EVIDENCE THAT HIS INVENTION IS PRACTICAL FOR ADOPTION BY MANUFACTURERS, AND CITIES IN WHICH GARBAGE IN-CINERATORS ARE CAUSE OF PROPERTY DEPRECIATION.

Yesterday afternoon Captain C. W. Lent gave a very satisfactory demonstration of his smoke precipitator at Park place and Washington avenue. Despite the driving rain there was a large attendance to witness the exhibition and the spectators remained in their automobiles and under shelter. It was the consensus of opinion that the precipitator did all that was claimed for it by the inventor and among the spectators in attendance were a number from San Francisco and other cities where garbage incinerators are a source of annoyance. They were of one mind, that by adopting the Lent process the noxious vapors and disagreeable fumes that settle over a community where vegetable and animal matter are consumed, could be satisfactorily controlled and the frequent trouble that arises from the violent protests that are made against the noxious vapors would be without foundation.

The theory upon which the smoke precipitator works is by forcing a counter draft by steam suction which draws the smoke and vapor into a retort where it is cooled and condensed. The process converts the smoke into a by-product which

MILLIONAIRE LEARNS A TRADE

CANNON CITY, Colo., Dec. 3.—From a life of luxury in the Brown Palace Hotel in Denver, Harold Frank Henwood, slayer of Sylvester Von Phul of St. Louis, has stepped into the life of a felon with the felons as companions, and to work in the blacksmith shop of the Colorado State prison. Beginning as an apprentice, he will gradually acquire the trade—a trade which the courts say he is never to acquire outside of prison walls.

REPUBLICAN LABOR MEN ORGANIZE

BOSTON, Dec. 3.—As a result of the decision of the executive board, which met here recently, a convention will soon be held in Washington for the organization of the National Republican Association of Labor Men. At that meeting national organization work will be planned. The association plans to cover the entire country within the next few months to extend its membership. The executive council claims that interest is manifested all over the country in the new Republican labor movement, and they are claiming a membership of 250,000 already. It is also claimed by men prominent in the movement that the recent Republican gains were largely due to its activities.

Square the bore, multiply by the number of cylinders and divide by two and one-half.

But during the year certain automobile manufacturers advertised that they had reduced the bore and lengthened the stroke, thus giving more horse-power, but making the license fee less on reckoning by the same formula. Then the State Engineering Department set out to devise a new method of computation. The State scale for automobile license taxes is: Under twenty horse-power, $5; twenty to thirty horse-power, $15; forty to fifty horse-power, $20; fifty to sixty horse-power, $25; over sixty horse-power, $30.

Criticized by Experts.

Already there are automobile experts who say that the new method of computation is mathematically unsound, while a movement has been begun to bring the matter before the Legislature in January.

Application blanks are now being sent to the 120,000 automobile owners throughout the state for registration for 1915. The applications and taxes must be made direct to the State Treasurer, but the yellow 1915 automobile plates and licenses are issued from the motor vehicle division. The first carload of 14,000 number plates are to be sent out from Sacramento, while another carload of the next 14,000 numbers will be distributed from Los Angeles.

About 250 automobile licenses were issued today.

CARNIVAL QUEEN HARKENS TO PEAL OF WEDDING BELLS

A little romance which had its inception during the recent Pythian Carnival culminated at the altar of a Santa Rosa church on Monday of this week when Miss Etta Bloom was claimed as the bride of William Linser, well known Standard Oil employee.

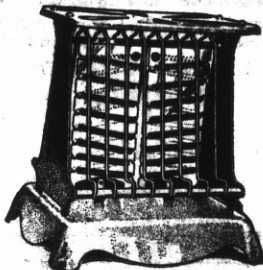

The couple were attended at the marriage ceremony by Mr. and Mrs. M. Vixler of this city.

Following the marriage the newlyweds left for a honeymoon trip to the southern part of the state.

MEASURES BEFORE CONGRESS

President Wilson is conferring with the leaders of Congress with reference to a legislative programme for the third session of the 63rd Congress, beginning next Monday.

So much time necessarily must be used in considering the appropriation bills that the general programme must be very limited. The administration apparently is determined that there shall be no extra session next summer, so the President must make very adroit selections if he is to get favored measures through without too great risk of compelling an extra session to finish with the supply bills.

Conservation will undoubtedly have an important place on Mr. Wilson's list. Two waterpower bills have passed the House and are favored by the President, having been improved, from the viewpoint of the conservationists, over the form in which they were introduced. The President may also urge a bill which extends the policy of leasing public lands, following the model of the Alaska leasing bill. This proposed measure will find opposition in the Senate.

The mystery attending the fate of the seamen's bill has not yet been solved. The President has continued non-committal regarding this legislation, which has passed both houses in radically different forms, and is now awaiting a conference. This bill is one of the pets of union labor. According to its opponents, its provisions are wholly inconsistent with the business policy which must be followed by ship owners if they are to take full advantage of their privileges under the ship registry law. During the present period of transition, it might embarrass the administration. Nevertheless the unions are likely to insist that this measure be enacted, despite the argument that it may handicap the growth of the American merchant marine.

Probably some of the southern members will insist again upon the Henry-Smith bill providing for government loans on cotton. They will at least support amendments to the Federal Reserve act, which they overlooked in the last session according to the Reserve Board, would have increased the lending power of the reserve banks having dealings with the south to the extent of $196,000,000.

Not the least important among the measures which congress must consider soon is the railway mail pay bill. The President, by his silence, has practically approved the Moon bill, which is backed by Postmaster-General Burleson. This bill also provides for a less rate of compensation to the railroads than provided by the Bourne bill, which has been worked out as a scientific measure. The railroads are enthusiastic over the Bourne bill, and the President may be forced into a definite position soon.

The Shackleford-Bryan good roads bill has passed the House and awaits action by the Senate. This is a gift to the states of $25,000,000. Another bill has been prepared, embodying a scientific plan of Federal aid to road-building. Here again the President must make a choice.

The House has also sent to the Senate two convict labor bills; one making goods of this kind carried in interstate commerce subject to the laws of the state of destination, and the other forbidding their importation from abroad. The Immigration bill, with its literary test, is ready for action by the Senate.

The President is expected to renew his advocacy of the ship-purchase bill, which will meet with hard sledding in both branches. An important House Bill seeks to place all water transportation under the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Resale prices, patent legislation, the labelling of manufactured goods, with reference to adulteration and misbranding, the licensing of warehouses, the admission of State banks to the Federal Reserve system—there are only a few of many important subjects for legislation which may be considered during the term of President Wilson, if not in the coming session.

The contest over the rivers and harbors bill may be renewed, although it can be said that the spoils-men are in a somewhat chastened mood. So far, President Wilson has not announced his attitude toward this measure. But, with the necessity of economy staring him in the face, it is expected he will ask for its close pruning.

BROTHERHOOD HOST AT ENJOYABLE PARTY

Fraternal hall was crowded to its limit last evening with members and their friends of the Fraternal Brotherhood. A jolly whist party took up the early part of the evening at the conclusion of which refreshments were served by a committee in charge.

STATE MAY FIND JOBS

TACOMA, Washington, Dec. 3.—With the closing today of the private employment agencies, brought about by public vote on the initiative measure at the recent election, a movement has been started for the establishment of state employment agencies in the larger cities, similar to the state agencies in Massachusetts. The recommendation will be one of the features of the annual report of State Labor Commissioner Olson, and it is expected that the proposition will be brought before the session of the Legislature this winter.

RUSSIANS CAUGHT IN THE KAISER'S DISMAL SWAMP

The Masurian Lakes and Canals, a network of natural barriers, stretches out before the invading hosts of Russians in East Prussia. The reaches of open water are in most cases too wide for pontooning. Lines of barbed wire entanglements stretch for miles between the lakes, while artillery commands the passage of the lakes themselves.

The Masurian lake region comprises about 4000 square miles, or as much as the State of Connecticut. In the southern part of the province of East Prussia, having Russian territory on the east and south. It is full of lakes of all sizes, from the Spirdingsee, the largest body of fresh water in Germany, to the most minute of ponds. It is known as "the land of the thousand lakes." One chain nearly a hundred miles long, stretches from Angerburg to Johannisburg. They are all connected by natural straits and by canals. The water area of this group, which is forming the best barrier against the invaders, is 420 square miles.

The Germans have prepared to make an effective stand along this chain of lakes. Unless the campaign is extended into the winter, the Russians will find it difficult to cross the lake region. The average thickness of the ice in winter in this region is from one to one and a half feet. With the whole region a frozen surface, strong enough to allow any military movement, the Germans once driven from their entrenchments would have no show whatever against superior numbers of men acclimated to serve weather conditions.

FINAL BRIEFS IN WHITE SLAVE CASE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3.—Final briefs in the appeal from conviction of Maury I. Diggs and F. Drew Caminetti, under the Mann White Slave Act, are being filed this week in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. When the arguments were heard, on November 5, Judges Wolpert, Ross and Gilbert granted 30 days for both sides to file additional briefs.

The entire case is now taken under submission, and a decision is not expected before January or February.

Diggs and Caminetti were convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary on evidence growing out of their escapade with Martha Warrington and Lola Norris, in which they eloped from Sacramento to Reno, Nevada. In their review of the case, the attorneys for the appellants pointed out that the wife of each of the prisoners knew of the relations of the men with the girls, and that Diggs and Caminetti, in order to avoid a scandal brewing in Sacramento, escaped to Reno. Marshall B. Woodworth, former U. S. District Attorney, J. A. Cooper, formerly a judge in the California District Court of Appeals, and Robert T. Devlin, former U. S. District Attorney, represent the convicted men. According to their argument, when the party arrived at Reno they realized the folly of the trip for the first time. Attorney Woodworth argued that the two men were amenable to the laws of Nevada and California, but should not have been reached under the white slave act. Judge Cooper declares that the defendants were not guilty of a violation of the statute as intended by Congress. In citing precedents, he said:

"A similar act was passed in France shortly after the treaty of Paris and Hamilton to Rome; no prosecution of Madame de Stael; no prosecution of George Sand. George Washington, Alexander Hamilton and Benjamin Franklin would never have held that this regulation would be applied in a case like that of Diggs and Caminetti."

The government relies for the constitutionality of the law on the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Jack Johnson, the colored pugilist.

NOTABLE SPEAKER ON CIVIC WORK

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The women civic workers, who today held their own session to discuss the feminine phase of civic problems, will join with the men's sessions tomorrow, when President Seth Low will formally open the annual meeting of the National Civic Federation in the Hotel Astor. Notable speakers will be John Hays Hammond, on unemployment in the winter; Judge Alton B. Parker on limitations of free speech and public assembly; Vincent Astor on the effectiveness of pure food and drug laws; Miss Maude Wetmore on women's welfare work; William R. Wilcox on employers' welfare work; and Roland P. Falkner, on the social survey of the last generation.

Tomorrow afternoon's session will be a general discussion of government ownership of railroads, telephones, telegraph and municipal utilities. Social insurance comes up Saturday morning, with George W. Perkins presiding. A galaxy of speakers will talk on preparedness for war, on Saturday afternoon.

YOUTH DIES FOR TRIPLE MURDER

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 3.—Harley Beard, 19 years old, must die in the electric chair here tomorrow, for the confessed murder of three people at Ironton, Ohio last spring. His appeal to the State Board of Prisoners was refused.

Last May, Beard confessed to the Chicago police that he murdered Robert Massey, his sister Mary and their mother, Mrs. Nancy Massey, 80 years old, on a farm at Ironton. Young Beard was employed on the farm, and disappeared after the murder. According to Captain Coughlin of the Chicago police, to whom he confessed the crime, Beard realized the enormity of his crime only after the newspapers printed it with all its horror. The captain declared he had the mentality of a boy of 12. Beard was arrested May 15 at the home of his sister in Chicago.

the attempt to invoke the initiative and referendum by a year was urged by the attorneys for Wall. They contended that should the Council of Richmond not fulfill the terms of its contract, this city besides losing a valuable piece of property presented as a gift, would lay the city liable to a heavy damage suit.

City Attorney D. J. Hall made the same contention, during the protracted consideration of the case.

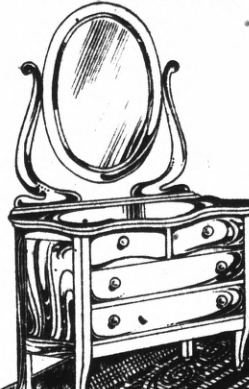

SENATOR ROOT HEADS SEARCH

CLINTON, N. Y., Dec. 3.—Senator Elthu Root is personally heading the search among the papers of Alexander Hamilton for proof of Hamilton's interest in the founding of Hamilton-Oneida Academy in 1793. Senator Root's search will include private collection, as well as the Congressional library. He says that Hamilton was greatly interested in the founding of the academy by Samuel Kirkland, missionary to the Indians, who established it as part of his plan to deal with the red men by education. The institution, now known as Hamilton College, expects to prove its name as well founded. Senator Root was graduated in the class of 1844.

VINDICATES DR. FRASER IN SLINGSBY'S BABY CASE

District Attorney's investigation in this city, nearly two years ago, Mrs. Slingsby denied that she knew anything about the advertisement, explaining that it was a forgery, although two handwriting experts pronounced the writing in the advertisement as undoubtedly Mrs. Slingsby's.

To Explain on Witness Stand. "Of course," said Attorney Duke yesterday before the British Probate Court, "when confronted with this, she denied it, but she has now disclosed the truth in this matter and must explain it on the witness stand."

The fact that Duke, who is leading the fight of the "Slingsby baby" for his share in the fortune, made this admission in open court yesterday is considered of the deepest significance by those who have followed the case. It means, they say, that Lieutenant Slingsby and his wife have determined upon an entirely new line of attack in their fight to wrest a share of the "sporting parson's" legacy from the other putative heirs.

Contention of Opponents. It is the contention of Lieutenant Slingsby's brothers in England, his opponents in the will contest, that Mrs. Slingsby, unable to become a mother, left her husband in the north, journeyed to this city, inserted an advertisement for a "baby for adoption," received an answer and took for her own the male child of Lillian Anderson, a Geyersville high school girl, who had been attending in San Francisco by Dr. W. W. Fraser.

All this was vigorously denied by the Slingsbys, Mrs. Slingsby insisting that the child was her own. Opposing her were Dr. Fraser, Mrs. Hattie Bain, a nurse, and others.

The State Board of Health branded the "Slingsby baby" as a substitute. The grand jury refused to act. The police courts dismissed the case without comment.

Those who saw the "Slingsby baby" in San Francisco over a year ago remarked at the striking resemblance of the child to Lieutenant Slingsby.

SALOONS COME IN FOR PANNING

SHERIFF VEALE DECLARES THAT HE WILL ENFORCE THE LAWS DEMANDING THAT DRUNKENNESS AND BOISTEROUS CONDUCT WILL NOT BE TOLERATED—MENTIONS SOME PLACES WHICH ARE BEING WATCHED.

Sheriff R. R. Veale has intimated to the Board of Supervisors that he proposes to wage war against the owners of taverns and road-houses who are conducting places of business in which no effort is made to conform with the laws of propriety. He further intimated that if no one else would prefer charges against violators of the law he would personally do so. The outburst of the sheriff was the aftermath of a protest made before the board against the granting of a license to Mrs. Mary Mitchell, who is said to be aged and infirm. The chief protestant was the principal of the San Pablo school. Protest was also made against the running of a saloon in the gum trees between Kreiger point and Sobra, and the supervisors will investigate the matter as it is not thought that the location is a suitable one for this class of business. Among several others which were mentioned as being places which will be called to account for running on a free and open plan was the "Six Bells" saloon on San Pablo avenue.
